This online yearbook was programmed, designed, edited, and converted to book format by Anne Brenner '75. Most data entry was done by the yearbook participants. I would like to thank our Class of 1975 Class Officers and the many others who made the terrific 40th reunion possible: Reunion Chair: Nikki Rosengren '75, Co-President: Maureen Kelly Scott '75, Co-President: Julie Raynor Gross '75, Vice President: Leona Brenner-Gati '75, Vice President: Shanta Devarajan '75, Vice President: Joe Labatt '75, Vice President: Eric Edmunds '75, Treasurer: Jay Finkelstein '75, and Secretary: A. Melissa Kiser '75. I would especially like to thank George Gati S'75 for the cover panoramic picture and the majority of the reunion photos in this yearbook as well as Sally Sears Belcher '75 who helped design the online yearbook.

Children (names and birthdates): Jeremy Ashkenas (10/13/86); Molly Ashkenas (1/18/89); Susannah Ashkenas (7/16/91)

Reflections:

The years definitely go by way too fast! It doesn't seem that long ago that we were in McCosh, or laughing in dorm rooms, sailing on the Lake ~ and now our kids are that age. How did it happen? I still dream of places, times, classes, and most of all, the great friends of our Princeton years.

I'm still happily juggling raising a family and working at the McCutchen law firm (now Bingham McCutchen) in San Francisco. Tom and I are very proud of Jeremy (lead developer at documentcloud -- at the NY Times, and graduate of Brown in 2008), Molly (a surfer, marathon runner, and EMT, graduating in a week from Stanford), and Susannah who starts at Savannah College of Art & Design in the fall. They amaze and delight us. We're now used to having an empty nest but prefer it when they are home. Tom is a general contractor, and I continue with my environmental law practice, with a dash of taking care of elderly parents thrown in for good measure. I'm looking forward to seeing everyone at Reunions -- we're still young!

Occupations:

Environmental Attorney (with the same firm for 31 years)

Postgraduate Degrees:

JD - University of Connecticut 1978

Reflections:

Still married to the same wonderful man, still living in Princeton (though I did leave for a little while), but currently catless. I'm doing volunteer work with NAMI (National Alliance on Mental Illness) answering their Helpline, helping out at their events and pursuing a role as an advocate for people living with mental illness.

I remember a Princeton very different from the University today and I spend part of every reunion trying to catch up with the changes. It's exciting and humbling to see how much it's grown. But I also come here to remember and renew old friendships--because they are at the heart of my Princeton experience.

Marital Status: married

Spouse/Partner Name: Ken Haase

Reflections:

35 years (where did they go?) ago I would never have dreamed of where I would be today. A circuitous route brought me eventually to Boston, where I love the work I currently do, writing books and speaking and teaching about soulful leadership. I feel grateful and blessed for all the opportunities and wonderful people along the way, including my Princeton experience (which I appreciate more with each passing year).

A small town girl from Washington state on lots of financial aid, I first laid eyes on Princeton when I stepped onto campus in the fall of 1971 and found my way to my dorm room in the 5th entrance of Holder Hall. Immediately overwhelmed, I fortunately found support and succor from roommates, friends, and professors who believed in me and gave me what I needed during that rocky freshman year (and slightly less rocky subsequent years) to survive and thrive.

A life in ministry and academia led me to writing and speaking. Through campus ministry to graduate school, to teaching mathematics to math-anxious adults (which I loved), to graduate school again, to teaching theology to academically-anxious would-be ministers (which I also loved), I wended my way to entrepreneurship. Last fall I had the opportunity to return to campus after a 20-year hiatus to speak on "A Quaker Perspective on Ethics in the Executive Suite," sponsored by the new Princeton Faith and Work Initiative, and got a big lump in my throat as I walked around campus visiting old haunts.

I'm grateful for my wonderfully supportive husband, my faith community, and my friends far and wide. This year will be the first reunion I've attended and I eagerly look forward to reconnecting with old friends and meeting new ones.

Occupations:

Seventies: Campus minister, graduate student in mathematics

Eighties: Lecturer in mathematics, graduate student in theology

Nineties: Theological seminary faculty, spiritual director, retreat leader

2000's: Author, speaker, consultant, retreat leader

Reflections:

The time is now short (where did it go?) to do all that we dreamed of: give back, travel, make a difference, be a grandparent. Retirement looms ahead with courses, book clubs and volunteer work as well as time in the country. I have a lake house in the Catskills where I kayak and fly fish from neighboring streams, road bike and watch the trees grow (beavers notwithstanding). I also cherish the evolving relationships with my adult children (Brooklyn and SF) and their spouses/partners and my husband and dear friends.

The wonderful times and people that were my Princeton experience have left me with lifelong memories I will always cherish. I've also had the incredible good fortune of coming full circle 'back to Old Nassau' in many ways. I moved back to the Princeton area 20 years ago. I have 2 more Tigers in the family..Robert (Class of '08) and Stephanie (Class of '13), plus spouse George, whose blood runs just as orange as the rest of us! I've had the awesome privilege of catching up in person with my thesis advisor, JT Bonner, and sharing memories of watching slime molds aggregate in Guyot Hall! I have the great pleasure of staying connected with Tiger friends over the years, and of being involved in many Princeton activities, both personally and professionally. Princeton has set me on a path in life that has been so fulfilling...I am eternally grateful.

Reflections:

Enjoying coming back to campus more often to share experiences of son Stuart '18.

Wish I could turn back the clock and be a student again....just attending classes without the homework and exams!

The food is so much better than when we were here and generally the students seem more engaged with faculty from freshman year on. Maybe they are just more mature than we.

Marital Status: Married

Spouse/Partner Name: Joan Bunning

Children (names and birthdates): Janet, Julia, Robert Alexander ages 24,22,18

Reflections:

I started out as a nervous premed from Cincinnati. After doing well my first two years, I relaxed a little and became a music major. That was a good choice. I have had a good career in medicine, but my family and music has brought most of the joy to my life. I wish I could go to Princeton again. I would worry less, take more diverse classes, and try to spend more time with friends. I still cherish the ones I made the first time around.

Occupations:

I help run the National Rehabilitation Hospital in Washington DC, working as an administrator and rheumatologist. I play some piano. I have sung in the a male a capella quartet 'The Brothers Flanagan' with great enjoyment for many years..

Postgraduate Degrees:

Reflections:

Looking back, I've observed that in each stage of our lives, we've become increasingly specialized, perhaps out of necessity to hone our skills in our respective niches. Now, with 35 years of hindsight, I appreciate more than ever the opportunities Princeton provided, and continues to provide, to explore almost any subject, from architecture to zoology.

Reflections:

The increasing number of life's chapters since graduation grows longer: Nepal, Tunisia, Saudi Arabia, Washington D.C., 25-year government career, 10 years running a growing company, husband, father, grandfather, immortality, mortality, White House, no cell phones, iPhones, Walkmen, iPods, billion dollar surveillance satellites, bingmaps, career structure, career freedom, cycling back to connect with Deerfield and Princeton Classmates. Somehow it all feels circular to me at this point.

Occupations:

Reflections:

Hemingway's quote 'If you are lucky enough to have lived in Paris as a young man, then wherever you go for the rest of your life, it stays with you, for Paris is a moveable feast.' has sustained me since I left Paris in 1984 to return to the U.S. and has continued to hold true as I moved from Providence and to Boston before settling in Washington DC. I would not be the first or the last alumnus to say the same about Princeton. I continue to serve as a senior clinical reviewer for immunosuppressants in solid organ transplantation at FDA, an area of specialization that still amuses some of my friends and colleagues who know of my organ-building ancestors, who were also in the business of (pipe) organ transplantation for a better part of the of the 18th and 19th centuries.

Children (names and birthdates): Hilary (08/18/88) and Gillian (08/21/96)

Reflections:

All in all, the last 35 years have been very good to me--barring a few bumps in the road--with great professional and personal opportunities along the way. I've been able to serve the community in which I grew up, which has been quite satisfying. But my family is what makes it all worthwhile; Sally and I have two wonderful daughters and a very happy home, and we remain close to our surviving parents and siblings.

There are some things in my life I wish I had done differently, but I realize that I could not be in the good place I am now without making a few mistakes along the way--and learning from them. I look back fondly on my years at Princeton, and those classmates who became and remain my friends.

Reflections:

I am single once again after 25 years, and I have recently moved from Vermont back home to Baltimore to be with family and old friends. I have taken on many part-time jobs, caring for children and adults who need help in various capacities. My daughter is a recent Johns Hopkins graduate who is now living and working in Manhattan. My son is working for City Year in Philadelphia before entering the University of Chicago in the fall. The most exciting thing I have done recently was spending nine months traveling around the world with my family. I may join the Peace Corps before all is said and done!

Reflections:

My four years at Princeton are now a whirlwind of memories: Moving into the dorms freshman year to Rod Stewart's Maggie May; meeting subsequent roommates Danker and Herman during our freshman sojourn in Witherspoon Hall; painting our room in Holder Hall red, yellow and blue stripes sophomore year; road trips to all of the other ivy schools with Waldron, Baeder and the rest of the cheerleaders; being privileged to watch some really excellent college basketball during my four years in orange and black; one very late night bike ride to the Princetonian Diner with Danker (yes, it is true that the prefrontal cortex is not fully developed until your mid-twenties); working in the Student Center and making pizzas in the Pub; watching the volleyball games from the patio at Tower; having numerous extended (but always entertaining) discussions with Professor Bressler regarding my thesis in Green Hall; hiking from 1901 Hall to the computer center at all hours in order to put my thesis onto key punch cards (why couldn't the PC have been invented a few years earlier?); and thoroughly enjoying the last few weeks of our senior year and graduation after that thesis was finally turned in!

Reflections:

At the university where I teach, freshmen take a seminar which involves going to ask faculty members about what they most remember from their freshman days. The students also ask us what advice we would pass along to them. Much of what I have to offer them is based on how exciting the discussions with classmates and faculty could be and how rewarding consideration of the purposes of education and life was at Princeton. I just wish that it were possible to recreate that excitement and sense of reward in a different environment.

Since 2001 I have been overseeing research at University Health System Consortium, a partnership of the medical schools in the US that pools data for performance improvement studies ('best practices'). But in April of this year, my company was bought by a larger firm and we are all still waiting to see what the fall-out is. Outside work, I'm active at church and with Feed My Starving Children, and I travel. I have been to all 50 states now, and 39 foreign countries. The light of my life is my daughter, Victoria, who graduated from Princeton in 2011. She spend the next year and a half as a Fulbright Scholar in India, learning Hindi and working on water purification and delivery of fresh water to slums. The she was a management consultant at Bain for about 2 years, and is now working for a start-up company that does work in China, although she lives in Washington, DC.

Spouse/Partner Name: Vicky Schipper - Penn '76

Children (names and birthdates): Alyssa - Wesleyan '04, Chloe - Penn '06, Farrell - Colorado College '09

Reflections:

It has taken a long time to get to a comfortable place, to mellow, and to lose lots of anxiety about the future. But I think my kids are happy, my wife seems happy, and I finally have a job that I find satisfying. I enjoy the personal contact. I feel like I am helping my clients. And they even thank me!

Vicky and I expect to keep our middle-aged parent personae going for a long time. She teaches high school English and I am active in the local Alumni Association and interview for the Alumni Schools Committee. We still have the energy and it is very rewarding so why retire? We have no grandchildren yet. That next life step may change our thoughts.

Reflections:

Forty-four years ago, I was so excited to be headed from Ohio to Princeton and all the possibilities it presented. But if I'd known then what an incredible expansion of my life would come with that Princeton experience, I would have been positively beside myself.

I feel fortunate to be able to look back at the past 40 years with pride and satisfaction, and Princeton contributed greatly to that. I'm thankful for so much more that's Princeton-related, too: For my parents' sacrifice so that I could attend Princeton, when a free ride was available elsewhere. For the confidence a Princeton education gave me, though I generally only disclosed that I went to the best university in the world when asked. For the open-mindedness of the Dean of Students Office that allowed me to help develop the Outdoor Action program, something I'm prouder of than any Supreme Court brief. And perhaps most of all, for meeting people in 1971 whom I value among my closest friends even today.

Occupations:

After 20+ years as a partner in large law firms, I started my own practice 10 years ago and have never been more-satisfied professionally. I have focused my entire career on various aspects of environmental law, from permitting to rulemaking to international development finance, with an intriguing sideline in food safety litigation, related to Mad Cow disease, in recent years.

Reflections:

Update since the 25th: Still happily partnered with Bill Hopkins, who now goes by Will since he ditched the legal career to become a Nashville songwriter. Still feeling pretty fortunate to have had a Princeton experience, an interesting career, and genuine friends. Three cheers indeed.

Update since the 35th: What I speculated about in the 25th Reunion Yearbook has come to pass. Will and I got married in October 2013 and we just marked our 28th year together last weekend. (I met Will the day I returned to DC from our 12th Reunion in 1987.) My other reflections include feeling immensely fortunate to have the lifelong friends I found at Princeton and a certain awe at how much those very brief years there affected me.

Reflections:

Has it really been 39 years since we nabbed the Clapper out of Nassau Hall?? Wow. Reunions is next weekend, and it's great to once again feel the tingles of youthful anticipation. Successful careers are nice, but looking back it's really family and friends that are the most important part of life. I've often considered myself to be one of the luckiest people I know, having an incredible wife, Donna; three fine sons; and some terrific lifelong friends...with Schmeer and Rose heading that list. Here's to next weekend and reuniting with close friends, old buddies from TI and 150's, and others who made those years on campus so special.

Occupations:

My career has spanned the electrical, electronic and renewables industries; and included various management and technical sales positions such as Sr. Project Development Manager, Vice President-Sales, National Sales Manager, Product Sales Manager, Regional Manager, etc. I've enjoyed sufficient domestic and international travel to appreciate that it's hard to beat living in a nice coastal community in San Diego.

I am hugely chagrined that I won't be able to make it to the 40th, and I send best wishes to you all! There's no doubt that Princeton has been a great ongoing influence in my life, and that the lessons learned and friendships made there have helped inspire and chart the course I have followed. A note about the portrait photo above: I thought some of you might enjoy that. It was taken in 1982, before Kuniko's and my Shinto wedding ceremony in her hometown of Johen, on the Japanese island of Shikoku. We also got married -- in more familiar attire -- at the First Congregational Church in Berkeley, CA. For a couple of more recent photos of me, see below. Marital Status: Divorced

Children (names and birthdates): Walter (7/6/86), Lily (4/2/89), Nina (2/3/91)

Reflections:

The inevitable, sometimes fast, sometimes deliberate, evacuation of the home-nest by the offspring has been happening since the last reunion. I know what to do with my time -- deferred professional work -- but I am not sure how to behave. So I bumble along, trying to be flexible, as the three young'uns find their way. And oh by the way, they are doing it magnificently.

Meanwhile, I continue with residential landscape architecture and have added sustainability to my passions: what to do with all that water? Or lack of? More pesticides, herbicides? NO! Native plants, YES! etc., etc. And my 'night job', researching and also lecturing on Italian villas and early 20th c. American 'cottages' will hopefully, eventually lead to a book. Not sure if that will be by our 45th but that's a plausible plan.

LOVE returning to Princeton, and visit even during off-year reunions. I learned so much and made such good friends and will forever be grateful to our wonderful university.

Occupations:

Landscape Architect

Master in Landscape Architecture

Children (names and birthdates): Sylvia, 2/9/88; Daniel 11/28/92

Reflections:

A journey starting with promise, moving through naïveté and hope, proceeding to confusion, delusion, shame, and disillusionment, decorated with adventure, travel, learning, and success and more than a fair share of humiliation, now fairly content, unassuming and confident, waiting to see what is to come. Hope to meet up with some old friends and hear their story.

Children (names and birthdates): Sarah 2/4/1993; Talia 12/15/1995

Reflections:

Thank you to my classmates who put so much time and effort into reunions and other class events. It's truly special to 'go back' for a few short days and remember the feelings of freshness, enchantment, and excitement associated with four years at Old Nassau. Connecting with classmates at different life stages is anchoring, although a bit unnerving when I realize how much time has passed and as I remember the friends who are no longer with us. Diane, I think of you every time I hear American Pie. That one is yours. You died too young but you did so much.

Occupations:

A rather eclectic string from Anthropology Major, to Med School at the University of Connecticut, to Family Medicine at Duke, to the Indian Health Service in New Mexico, to the Johns Hopkins School of Public Health and many different International Public Health work experiences. Fate finally landed this Brooklyn girl in Atlanta where I've lived for the past 23 years. (Who knew my children would be Southerners?) I've worked at the CDC for the past 15 in a variety of positions. It's never dull here which is the way I like it! Starting to consider the next career....Perhaps reunions will inspire me.

Children (names and birthdates): Miranda Alice Jacoby, March 5, 1996

Reflections:

I'm afraid I'm going to miss the Reunion; as things stand, I'll be out of the country on business. I regret that. In some respects the world seems enormously different from what it was in June, 1975; in others, the continuity seems to be strong. I could not really have foreseen where I've gone and what I've done, other than in the most general sense; by and large, I'm happy with it. Ellen and I just celebrated a 25th wedding anniversary last year. (We've tried to persuade younger friends that's 12 1/2 years each, but I don't think anybody is buying it.) I did not and could not have anticipated what a huge change parenthood presents, but I'm very happy about that, too. I've stayed in touch with many friends I made at Princeton. I'm sorry about those with whom I've fallen out of touch and I mourn those who've passed away. People make their own lives, to an extent; people also make others' lives, perhaps to a larger extent. I've never had an unlisted phone number because I've always thought someone who wants to get in touch ought to be able to. Happy 35th, all!

Reflections:

Last year, I retired after a 34-year career doing research in experimental physics at Bell Laboratories. I'm proud to recall that, from the time I first walked into the building on June 30, 1980 until almost the moment I was dragged back out by security guards on March 21, 2014, I spent virtually 100% of my professional time engaged in honest scientific work; viz: correcting errors in equipment designs, plugging vacuum leaks, debugging computer code, mopping up spilled coolant, applying direct pressure to arterial lacerations (very important!) and shepherding errata through the publication process. I'm equally proud to note that I avoided many of the activities that people in my profession engage in to avoid actual work: organizing an international conference in order to get a free trip to Corsica, writing a review article which downplays the contributions of competitors, chairing a committee (OK, I did that once, but, in my defense, we didn't accomplish a thing), or becoming anybody's manager. I never Leveraged Synergies, Curated Core Competencies, or Read Out a Thought-Leadership White Paper.

I'm now devoting most of my copious free time to studying and making music, specifically using a piano. I even plan to learn the bass clef if my left radial nerve ever gets un-pinched. In the meantime, I have a room full of unread books and a dilapidated house to keep me busy.

Reflections:

After thirty years as a commercial real estate lawyer in Boston, I retired from my law practice a few years ago, and have been very happy with my decision. It has given me time for family and friends and lots of things I enjoy, including travel (especially to Europe) and my passionate support of the Boston sports teams. I have also been taking courses at the Harvard Extension School, ranging from art history to astrophysics, learning about all the things I never studied as an undergraduate. I have devoted much time to charitable causes that I care about, and at the top of that list is Princeton, in my work as co-class agent since 2005. I am passionate about supporting an institution that has meant so much to me and my family, and has so much potential for future good work in educating the next generation and important research efforts. I have enjoyed the opportunity it has given me to reconnect with many '75 classmates, who are leading interesting lives in so many different ways. I look forward to catching up with many of you at our 35th Reunion.

Reflections:

it doesn't seem possible that it has been 5 years since our 35th Reunion!

At that time, I had just been nominated to be a Commissioner on the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC) in DC. Shortly after the Reunion, I was confirmed for the position, and Bill and I moved to DC, where we have been most of the time since (though we still consider Massachusetts home). I have very much enjoyed serving on FERC, working with wonderful people and being involved in national energy issues at a time of much change and challenge. I was recently confirmed for a second term that ends in 2019, so I expect to be at it for a while.

Bill and I have also enjoyed living in DC, and reconnecting with classmates down here. It is a great city, and new chapter we did not expect to have. Bill has been studying at Georgetown, working toward a Masters in Liberal Studies in the Continuing Education program, taking the things he missed at Princeton and actually back to writing papers!

The kids are both fine, settling into their young adult lives. Dan is a physics teacher in a charter high school in Fall River, Massachusetts and Allison is a student at Columbia Business School, studying marketing. She is also engaged, so we are enjoying preparing for the wedding and the next chapter. We are all up and down the Eastern seaboard so it's not hard to visit.

Very much look forward to connecting with classmates at the reunion!

It has been a fun 40 (!) years. Meanwhile, family is most important, and adjusting to the transition of the kids leaving for university - Samantha is in Grade 12 and off next year, Allie in 3rd year McGill studying Environmental Science, with 2 field work terms so far. So there goes my being an assistant soccer coach after 15 years. Tracy is immediate past-president of the Society of General Practitioners of BC, and immersed in provincial and federal medical affairs. Meanwhile I'm still doing the same old IM consulting and teaching, with ICU and 48 hour shifts off the plate since my 60th birthday - a nice b'day gift to myself. More time for hiking and biking, and travel. Still on the Freedom75 retirement plan.

Reflections:

How odd to think that 35 years have passed. I have lived for the past 30 years in Canada, a wonderful country, with my husband (also an American) and now my son. The circuitous path that led me here began with Princeton in many ways, in that my education was the springboard for travel, post graduate work and the confidence to try a whole range of new things, things I could never have done from my home state of Montana. I have managed to stay fairly close to the school over the years, and am excited to be bringing my son with me this year.

Occupations:

Reflections:

I feel fortunate to have a family that has emerged, after some serious health crises, as active, healthy and successful. I feel pleased to be able to support my wife's career as a painter and my children's growth as students and people. I feel doubly fortunate to have found a career that continues to excite me. I do get up most mornings genuinely wanting to do what I am going to do that day.

As a student at Princeton, Stanford and Harvard, I was looking to find a career that would enable me to think systematically and hard, stay intellectually challenged, influence important decisions, and pay me reasonably well. I wanted to travel the world. I ended up in a career that didn't exist when I was at Princeton but uses the skills and knowledge that I acquired at Princeton and keeps me intellectually challenged, focused on solving real and frequently important problems with systematic thinking, enables me to travel, and even pays me while I'm having fun.

While I feel fortunate, I also feel that, in a metaphorical sense, we are surfers in a sea with major waves that arise out of technological, demographic, political, economic and cultural changes that are often hard to predict and impossible to control. Whether we pick what turns out to be good wave to ride or a lesser wave may well have a bigger impact on our lives than the conscious choices that we make about how to ride the wave. I feel humble in the face of forces much greater than those I can wield. At one level, that may be why I find spirituality when I hike big mountains and wish the big mountains were closer to the East Coast where I live.

Occupations:

I began my career as a professor at Harvard Business School studying negotiation. After 6 years there, I decided to negotiate for a living and worked for a year as an investment banker and then for a number of years working in the direct equity investment arm of a wealthy Canadian family. For more than 15 years thereafter, I have run a boutique consulting firm that combines my (and my co-author's) academic work with our negotiating experience to advise companies and governments around the world in complex negotiations and to build organizational capabilities to negotiate classes of negotiations that are of major import to our clients. We've been very fortunate to have worked for major corporations on important deals and to have been engaged by CEOs and even a country president. We're always learning about new countries and new industries. We also do pro bono work helping conflicting parties in civil wars and armed conflicts between countries to try to make peace. To our great satisfaction, we have occasionally been successful in contributing to agreements that have stopped conflicts that were killing people on a daily basis. My Harvard Business School colleague and business partner and I write books and articles as part of a process of building useful intellectual capital.

Thirty-five years is a lot to 'reflect' on. When I first stepped on the campus of Princeton, it seemed like graduation was an infinite time away. Now it all seems like a blip. I have a child in college with graduation not too far off. I'm sure many of our classmates have seen multiple children's graduations, weddings, and grandchildren. It all goes by so fast. I am thankful I could spend those valuable, formative years at Princeton with great classmates. Princeton prepared me well for my career and life after college. Thank you Princeton!

Reflections:

I grew up on a small working farm in the Finger Lakes of New York State, the youngest in a family where chores and farmwork after school and on weekends dominated the lives of my siblings and me. We worked hard in the barns and in the fields: if only we had known we were raising 'free-range' hens then--especially when we wanted to play sports or be in school plays, for which there was just no time in my family's life. I loved the farm, but no one loved school the way I loved school, and when a high school teacher encouraged me to look at an elite school ('Mary, Yale and Princeton are taking girls, and I think you should be one of them!'), I wrote away for applications. My father let me spend my own babysitting money to apply to Princeton, $15, rather than Yale, $20. I was hardly the well-rounded applicant! As I've watched a couple of senior colleagues at Yale retire, I realize I will be the last faculty member at Yale to have grown up so intimately connected to hard-scrabble agriculture. I am grateful to have been a part of a generation that benefited from SAT tests that identified new students in what were then new places. I feel enormously fortunate in having had the sort of education I did have at Princeton. I am so grateful to have had faculty members who took an interest in my interests--and for introducing me to the art of ancient Mexico and Maya, which has become my life's work. At Princeton, my mind expanded every day.

And I suppose my life took easy turns at that point--I continued to love school!--but I also sought risks. A Fulbright fellowship took me to Mexico for a year after Princeton. and my Spanish became fluent. I discovered how much I loved solving the archaeological puzzles of the prehispanic past in Mexico and Guatemala, and I've never looked back, even though my family did not encourage the PhD I pursued at Yale in art history! I also found that I loved the classroom and the opportunity to engage with young minds.

A few years after we had both earned our PhDs at Yale, my husband, Edward Kamens (Yale 1974), and I were married--back on that beautiful farm. We both secured positions at Yale; we have raised two amazing children (one, now in Botswana and in his final year of medical school at Penn; the other, an engaged and ambitious employee of a Bloomberg philanthropy in NYC). I paid off my student loans from Princeton the year I earned tenure!

From 1992 onward, I held half-time administrative positions at Yale until I became Dean of Yale College in 2008. I stepped down as Dean a year ago. In retrospect, it's interesting how much I enjoyed parts of the job people usually grumble about--fundraising, especially--and I take particular pride in having confronted the challenges of sexual misconduct ahead of the national focus on the problem. I took on the challenges of how we taught freshman math and science courses, committing resources, time, and energy to student outcomes--and perhaps even better, to student excitement in areas of study that often stifled student engagement.

This past academic term brought me to the UK, where I was Slade Professor in the Fine Arts at Cambridge. I had not carried out new research in many years, although I had completed and published several major projects while Dean. Unlike most academics in the humanities, I have long preferred collaborations, both large and small, and these sustained my research during full-time administration. It has now brought me joy to find how quickly I see new problems and the paths to answers in 2015; I had to wonder whether I was stale, to wonder whether I would be stymied in the re-entry. And happily, I find myself in a new set of ever-expanding problems and projects.

What do I do in my spare time? I'm a voracious reader, fiction and non. A holdover from my childhood is the role of needlework in my life. I draw; I sometimes paint. I'm likely the best Mexican chef in New Haven. And I like work. I often prefer work to spare time! I stay in close touch with my best friends from Princeton '75. They are a constant for me, now more than 40 years. I think of them, and of Princeton, every day of my life.

Reflections:

It's impossible to believe that it's been 40 years, and impossible to believe that I've trotted out this cliché, but it's true! Life has been such a happy adventure and I consider myself to have been so very blessed in my marriage, with my friends and in my profession that when the inevitable sadnesses have struck, they have all sustained me. I'm still in regular contact with so many of the people I was in contact with at Princeton and the fact that I'm in London and they're 3000 miles away doesn't seem to matter at all. If you're visiting London do get in contact. I have just come off the phone with Janet Morrison Clarke and we laughed that the world is a smaller place than it was in 1975. So who knows, maybe for our 50th reunion we will be in the 'Beam me aboard Scotty' phase of the planet's evolution!

Occupations:

I'm a Feature Writer for Historic Royal Palaces UK which is a wonderful job. Reflections:

I have to admit that after all these years I still feel a strong connection with, and affection for, Princeton. Fortunately I live close enough to be able to return to campus a few times each year for sporting events, Alumni Day, and occasionally, when the planets align just right, reunions. Undergraduate friendships, despite the absence of frequent contact, remain meaningful. And since graduation I have developed relationships under a variety of circumstances with many Princeton alums, all of whom have proven to be top-notch individuals. It is with pride that I have witnessed the University's ongoing impressive record of achievement in multiple arenas.

Fond memories of my days at Princeton include wonderful late night BS sessions with roommates, midnight hoagie runs, casino card games, an assortment of clever pranks, the campus at its best on those rare beautiful fall or spring days, moments of quietude in the lounge atop Fine Tower, impossibly trying to decipher the enigmatic blackboard writings of John Nash (A Beautiful Mind), barbecues at Kate McCleery's, laboring on philosophy papers (in hindsight), inspirational professors, and, of course, the NIT Basketball Championship.

Reflections:

Riding through a slum in Nairobi, a toddler dashed out into the street dangerously close to our vehicle. A man pushing a wheelbarrow hurried over, took the child by the hand and walked him to the edge of the street. The man pointed to our car, gave the child a few warning words, and went on his way. The child disappeared into a tiny house. In America, seeing a child at risk, would we feel a strong enough sense of community to drop what we were doing and protect it?

After two years in Iran and Afghanistan after graduation and three years in grad school, I spent 20 years doing exactly what my Princeton degree in Near East Studies intended me to do, to live and work in the Middle East. In addition, i got to travel and do business and get to know the Far East and Latin America. And everywhere I lived and traveled to I connected with Princeton Alumni, some of them have become our dearest friends, and that has made a huge difference in my life.

For the past ten years I have been doing some consulting but mostly going back and trying to complete all the research projects I never managed to finish when I was in Grad School. Hopefully soon, once my wife decides to retire, i want to travel even more, especially in Asia and Latin America.

Reflections:

I have repeatedly interrupted my career as a civil litigator: three time to accompany my wife on her sabbaticals in Europe and most recently to write a biography of a great, great, great, great grandfather who signed the Constitution and was the leading Philadelphia attorney in the Early Republic (Jared Ingersoll). The resulting limitations on my career advancement have been amply compensated by the opportunities to explore new interests and spend extra time with my wife and children. With Owen having graduated from Dartmouth in '09, Cullen graduating from Williams this June, and Eleanor enrolling in Princeton's class of 2014 this fall, I'm a happy guy. Maryellen and I have been blessed.

Reflections:

Freshman year, I took a life-changing architecture course with Robert Geddes, and for a long time I was sure I was going to become an architect. I did not. But subsequent courses and jobs let me keep one foot solidly planted on the bedrock of materials science while I explored a rich and astonishing creative realm that led eventually to what has become my life's work. Many before me have discovered that you never know where things will lead. Who thought I would become a novelist or live for 17 years in Dallas or become a parent of triplets who would follow their own vertiginous paths? After a year in Johannesburg, I am back on the east coast, thrilled to reconnect with Princeton and my classmates. As our wonderful physics professor Jim Peebles would say, 'Now we're laughing!'

Reflections:

New reflection: In the past five years I have attended each of the Reunions and strengthened or made new and lasting relationships with members of our Class and other classmates, who were on campus with us in the early and mid 70's. During this time I have come to cherish family even more, having lost family members and close friends to the expected and unexpected circumstances that take physical presence away in this life. I have also celebrated many marriages and births including three grandchildren of my own. I have officially begun my life as Popi to this generation, which includes a growing number of grandnephews and grandnieces as well. They give me as much joy and happiness as I can ever expect to have in life and through their unconditional love I am given hope and resolve to do whatever I can to give them every possibility for a bright future filled with tomorrows.///In 2009 I wrote and continue to believe: Our common experience at Princeton whether you were happy about it or not makes us a family with ties that will bind us together for the rest of our lives. Whether these ties are loosely held or bound tightly by special relationships, they are important in our lives. As in all families some of us have hurt one another while others of us have saved one another. We must be thankful for those who have helped us in our lives and forgive those who have been unkind to us, as even close siblings are known to do. We continue to have much that we can share with one another that can make a difference in our lives. This is not about the University. This is all about the Class of 1975 in all of its uniqueness created by each and every one of us in our own individual ways. Cherish this relationship that we have with each other for it is both a lasting memory and continuing opportunity.

Occupations:

The tanking economy filled my professional life with ever more challenges and demands on my time to stem the tide of fraud and embellishment of claims seeking to make a welfare system of the insurance industry for those, who had not experienced financial hardship in their lives and knew not how to be frugal and actually practice living within one's means.

In 2009 I wrote of my occupations being Searching For Answers In Relationships:

I have spent significant time searching for answers to questions that life has created for me. In the process I have learned that relationships are the driving force of life and that without them you might as well have your ticket punched and jump ship. Through this process I have nurtured a loving relationship with my wife of thirty years (Roselle St. Clair Kaestner Schutte, aka Rosie). From this union have grown relationships with two wonderful children. Our son Niko Douglas Schutte will be 29 in August and married. He is a public elementary school principal in Durham, NC, having graduated with his Masters in Education from UVA. He is living in Chapel Hill with his soon to be bride Sally Wood, who will be taking a break after her third year of Med School to complete her Masters in Public Health before rejoining her medical degree at UNC in 2011. They both are delightfully gifted people with outgoing personalities and caring natures. It is wonderful to know and relate to them. Our daughter Angela Rose Schutte, aka Annie, also is a UVA grad, who will turn 27 tomorrow. She is currently living with her significant other Andrew Pratt in DC where she is the youngest Assistant Director to be promoted to this position at the Center for American Progress. Andrew will be starting Teach For America in the DC area this Fall. They also are gifted and engaging people with much to share. I have been an Investigator my entire life and have been doing that professionally since shortly after graduating Princeton in 1975. I had trained to be a transportation systems planner, but that career was not meant to be as my first great job offer with Parsons, Brinkerhoff, Quade & Douglass to work on the project to design a regional transportation system for San Diego was trashed, when President Gerald Ford cut federal funding for this venture. With no job I set my sights on law school, but was sidetracked by a call out-of-the-blue from an attorney with the NJ Attorney General's Office, who heard from a college friend of mine that I was the person he needed to manage his staff building an antitrust case aimed at recovering damages from one of the most corrupt political machines of the twentieth century. After I was hired into that position I received on the job training as an Investigator by a staff of retired IRS, FBI, and ATF investigators garnering second pensions from New Jersey. I followed my mentor attorney to Virginia to become the Chief Investigator of the VA Attorney General's Office in 1977 responsible for investigating and prosecuting any economic offenses, especially political corruption, in the Commonwealth. I went private as a Pinkerton's man after getting married. I started running their Investigations Office in Virginia, was soon promoted to rebuild their New York City Office and in the sixth year of my employment with them was made their National Investigations Manager in DC. From there I went even more private returning to Richmond in 1986 and opening my own PI business, which has sustained me for the past twenty-one years. My baliwick is fraud investigations of any kind, but primarily insurance. My clients are primarily law firms and insurance companies. My forte is locating and eliciting the cooperation of people, who are necessary for achieving success in litigations. I work from my home and have been the sole employee of Douglas C. Schutte & Associates. You cannot find a listing for my business as all of my clients find me by referral and reputation alone.

In keeping with my philosophy of maintaining a healthy mind and body in order to best experience all that life has to offer I have continued my athletic endeavors throughout. After knee surgeries in 1972 and 1975 ended my wrestling career (Olympic dreams for 1976 dashed), I brought the sport of Ultimate Frisbee, which I had learned at Princeton, to Richmond and formed a club team that still competes in the Mid-Atlantic Region. When children curtailed my weekend travel in that sport I became a Sports Official in 1987, first in soccer eventually reaching a professional level and then adding high school wrestling thirteen years ago and high school volleyball seven years ago to my whistling.

This is some of who I have become, mostly what I have been doing, and less of who I am, but I will save that for another time. My hope is that all of us will be able to get to know more about who each of us is and what we have to share with each other that will enable each of us to live fuller and happier lives.

Friendships are ties that bind
Making one stronger in common bond.
Make time to keep these nurtured
That your soul not be cast out alone.

The last 35 years have been full of wonderful surprises, a rewarding career, and the joy of a loving family. My oldest son is newly engaged, so the world of grandfather-hood may not be too far in the future. My career has been guided by the principle, 'always be willing to take a chance,' which has led to many interesting opportunities. I am now at a stage in which I find many of my efforts are directed toward mentoring those younger than I, which has led to great satisfaction as I help others grow and develop as physicians and educators. Throughout everything I have been blessed with a loving and supportive family. I look back on the past 35 years with wonderful memories and look to the future with great anticipation.

Reflections:

I can't believe it has been 40 years since we graduated. I feel so fortunate to have a spouse and three children who have shared the Princeton experience. I spent most of my working career in finance at Marriott Corporation and left when my son was born. Since then I spent time on community and school activities. Having a child at Princeton from fall 2003 until spring 2014 gave me a wonderful opportunity to reconnect with all things Princeton. I have remained very involved with class and schools committee activities. My daughter Jennifer '07 married John Stephens (Notre Dame 2006) in summer 2013, and had a baby boy last week. They both graduate from Wharton in two weeks and are moving to NYC. Kristen '09 has completed one year at Harvard Business School and will be in NYC this summer. Andrew '14 is working as a consultant at Bain, also in NYC. I am so looking forward to catching up at our 40th--seeing old friends, making new friends--and reminiscing about the past even as we ponder the future.

Deb and I were happy to celebrate our 16th anniversary a few weeks ago, and realized most of our friends did that around 1995... To each, his own path! Ours seems to involve a tandem bike fairly frequently.

Most of my waking hours are devoted to clean energy and sustainability: as COO and co-owner of Advanced Solar Products (leading solar design/build firm, combining solar with resilience), and now in my 11th year on the board of the NJ Chapter of the U.S. Green Building Council (just finished two years as Chair). Currently Board Chair for Somerset County Business Partnership (700 businesses), the game is to create a 'tipping point' for sustainability in business so it becomes mainstream.

Founding member of NJFREE (NJ for Renewable Energy and Efficiency), helping to draft and support NJ legislation to create complete transition to renewables by 2050. Relied on Ed Mazria's 'Architecture 2030' framework to incorporate practical strategies.

Ongoing connections to Princeton mainly through Outdoor Action program (probably the greatest impact the Class of '75 has had on Princeton) and the School of Engineering (Andlinger Energy Center, Transportation, Princeton Entrepreneurship Network). Annual telemark ski trips with Rick Curtis '79 (OA Director) have been a key point of contact to maintain involvement with OA.

Reflections:

Vacation, downtime and hobbies are very important in keeping balance in life. And exercise. Pick one (or two) and have fun with it. Colonial Club had a squash court in the back yard. I picked up squash there and through my gym requirement at Princeton. Running around in that little room, banging the ball against the wall and trying to outfox my opponent helped me get through the inevitable stresses of life. That survey asked if my politics have changed. Not really. I didn't trust the government then and I still don't.

Occupations:

I run a pediatric practice with my three partners. We were a 'large' group practice in the Philadelphia suburbs and have grown a little. But now we are a small entity dwarfed by large medical groups and hospital systems. We provide a great place to work for 5 other physicians and 30 support staff and the best primary medical care to the kids, our patients. More than 30% of our patients are on government medical assistance. We negotiate with insurance companies and the medical assistance HMOs to get the kids the services they need. Now the federal government wants to be in charge. Bigger bureaucracies do not accomplish better health care.

Postgraduate Degrees:

I did medical school at the University of Pittsburgh and residency in pediatrics at Children's Hospital of Philadelphia right out of Princeton. I completed certification as a lactation consultant 10 years ago. Breastfeeding is the most important way to improve the health of children throughout their lifetime and also the health of the mother. Now I can integrate breastfeeding support into my everyday practice of pediatrics. I also provide breastfeeding medicine consultations to moms and babies in the tri-state area and beyond.

Daughter, captain of her squash team at Bowdoin.

Reflections:

Where have the years gone. I've been at the Food and Drug Administration for the past two years as the lead communicator for foodborne illness outbreaks. With previous work as a public affairs specialist for the Transportation Security Administration, I think I can claim an expertise in crisis communications.

I've written many articles in the fields of photography, naval technology, food safety, and was listed as a contributing author for a book, Navies in the Nuclear Age (1994) and a monograph, Naval Special Warfare in Somalia (1997).

Travels for the government and as a tourist have taken me from Angkor Wat Cambodia; Singapore; Beirut; Israel; England; north of the Arctic Circle and many points in between.

I still keep up with some of my friends my Princeton, so 40 year-old ties run deep.

I finally got married in 2013 to Stephanie Cooper. Who knows what lies ahead.

Occupations:

Currently a Health Communications Specialist with the Food and Drug Administration, Department of Health and Human Services. I've previously been a public affairs/strategic communicator for the Transportation Security Administration, an editor with Jane's Information Group, and other venues. I'm also a retired Commander, U.S. Naval Reserve

Postgraduate Degrees:

Graduate, U.S. Naval War College, masters-level degree in National Security and Strategic Studies, 1994

My marriage, March 2013

Reflections:

WOW! 10 Years After the 25th! Wait a minute Alvin Lee jamming 'I'm Going Home' is suddenly a flashback in my mind taking me back to Ole' Nassau in 1971 as we arrived on campus to begin 'the Journey'...

Well that is way too far back as I do not even remember where I left off from our 25th Reunion Reflections... In either case I have added 9 year old twins Vanessa and Carolina to the clan since the 25th, joining our 12 year old Anastasia, our 27 year old Emily and my wife Judi...

Our three dogs that were alive and well at the time of the 25th have passed and we recently took on the challenge of two 8 week old chocolate lab puppies just to keep us all focused on some of the more important things in life...

My company, Spirit International, is now called Spirit International Group, involving various companies focused on retail environment design, store fixtures, feature displays, LED lighting, packaging, fashion jewelry, children's furniture, golf training aids and a Hong Kong based trading company that sources any product imaginable.

The connection you say? Well, it is a brilliant strategy of throwing enough 'stuff' against the wall and hoping something sticks :):):)...

Seriously however the connection is China and what we can make there most efficiently and effectively. We fortunately or unfortunately (still trying to figure this out :):):)... own our own factories in China where I still live 10-14 days a month as well as the USA...

The recent economic turmoil has been challenging to say the least but the old adage of 'What doesn't kill you, will make you stronger...' still rings true...

Thus on that note we will wait till the 50th for the next chapter God or Buddha or Allah willing (or whatever entity one believes in that is greater than ourselves)... Looking forward to seeing everyone May 2010!!!

Founder and CEO, Spirit International Group

Reflections:

Just got back from Reunions -- still glowing. Was so wonderful to talk to so many old and new friends. Common topics of adult children and their lives, parents, retirement or keep working, and where our life journeys have taken us were all fascinating.

Steve and I are still doing well in Indianapolis. We both have been able to expand our professional horizons, and spend many hours (when I'm not out of town. . .) sitting at our computers across the table from each other. Ahhh love. Indy has been a great hub for visits to my parents in St. Louis, Kristen (Yale '09) and Ryan (UVM '09) in Chicago, and Adam (Dartmouth '06) in Ann Arbor. Adam and his wife (also Dartmouth '06) and our granddaughter are now headed to Atlanta for his new job as asst. professor of health economics at Emory, so that will be a longer trip. As you can see, we have learned that there are other wonderful universities in the country :). (One of the highlights of Kristen's volleyball career at Yale is beating Princeton for the Ivy championship. A security guard at Dillon Gym actually came over to shush me during the match -- doubtless because I was cheering for Yale!)

We are truly blessed. Thanks to so many of you who are among our blessings.

Reflections:

After five years of practicing law at a large law firm in Seattle, Sue and I worked for a while in Japan and then spent over a year traveling through Asia. Upon returning to Seattle, I went to work at a smaller law firm, and we began a family. Galen, our oldest, recently graduated from USC and is starting grad school in physical therapy. Jared is finishing up at Claremont McKenna and looking for a job with a startup in the Silicon Valley. Grace (whom we adopted from China in 1998) is a junior in high school. I recently retired from Serengeti Law which I co-founded in 2001- a web-based project management system for the legal profession with over 250,000 users in 200 countries, which we sold to Thomson Reuters.

Our family enjoys skiing and hiking in the Pacific Northwest and Sierras. Sue and I travel often, most recently to New Orleans, New England, Bhutan, Laos, Portugal, London and the Orkney Islands. I play lots of tennis with younger guys to keep me in shape and humble, and am getting back into the piano. If you come to Seattle please get in touch - we enjoy having friends give us an excuse to act like tourists!

Occupations:

Reflections:

'Hint - the door is not locked.' - Unknown

'Give the world a smile each day.' - My Dad's favorite gospel song

'A shroud has no pockets.' - German folk saying

Although my last thirty-five years have been devoid of the macrocosmic accomplishments many of you have enjoyed, I have lived a life replete with the deep and true love of an amazing circle of friends and family, the magic of music, and the beauty and art of weaving those friends, their lives, and their music together. Professionally and privately my counsel has been sought by many I respect, and through entertaining, teaching, domestic relations law and beyond I believe my microcosmic focus may have resulted in a few larger ripples. Many children grew up in homes where they were loved, and many circles of friends and music have been interwoven; I believe I've brought some small measure of happiness and peace to those around me.

Since retiring in 2007 to the Virginia countryside with my wife of twenty-five years, Pat, we have designed and built our (energy-efficient, passive solar, geothermally heated and cooled) retirement home, where we grow much of our own food, work on stone walls, play music with friends, and bask in the love of our Border Collie, Django.

With the help of classmate Jay Closser and his associates at Landvest, and the Piedmont Land Conservancy, I have recently concluded nearly three years of work as a result of which the North Carolina Zoo has acquired 322 acres of beautiful timberland on Bachelor Creek in Asheboro, N.C., which was my great-grandfather's homeplace. These were the fantasy woodlands of my childhood, my mother's childhood, and my grandmother's childhood. With the acquisition of what will be known as the Ward Nature Preserve, the North Carolina Zoo becomes the largest land area public zoo in the nation, with over two thousand acres total, and over five hundred acres of exhibits. This is a legacy project in which I take great pride, preserving the land and water as a natural habitat, with only the minimal development of two miles of hiking trails planned.

Reflections:

I look back fondly on our days at Princeton and the many reunions we have had together. Steve and I were married in 1976 and we have been very busy with family and careers since then. Life has been even more eventful since our last reunion. Michael married Vera Broekhuysen in 2012 and produced our first grandchild, Jonathan Sassoon Lis, on 8/7/14. Luckily, they live in Cambridge MA, so we see them often. Becky married Keith Bodin on 10/11/14 and live in Seattle, which we thoroughly enjoy exploring. My parents moved from Philadelphia to Delray Beach FL in 2014, so we all travel a lot to see each other on holidays and vacations.

Children (names and birthdates): Alison '05, 1983; Teddy Colgate '07 1985 ; Andrew '09 1987; Alex, Union '11 1990

Reflections:

I've spent the past 35 years in basic biomedical research, focusing on understanding immune recognition of viruses, a topic of practical value in improving vaccines, but more importantly to me, a tremendous intellectual challenge. I've had the great fortune of working at NIH, a paradise for basic research, and a shining example of the federal government at its finest. My work has never been more interesting or more fun: the wonders never cease as our knowledge increases and new technology makes the "impossible" routine (one example from my laboratory: we now visualize immune responses in living animals with the help of lasers and computer controlled microscopes, and create 3-dimensional videos of immune cells fighting virus-infected cells).

But there is a fly in the ointment. As I became more reflective about science, it occurred to me that my principal mission as a scientist is to pass the torch of the scientific method to the next generation, and to ensure that science is a thriving culture. Over the years, I've become increasingly concerned about the scandalous treatment of junior scientists in biomedical research in the USA. Despite the importance of their contributions to industry and health, the system has somehow decided that biomedical PhDs should earn less than taxi drivers until they are almost 40 years old. On top of this, we have created a culture in which established university-based scientists, even those who are world's experts in their fields, are in constant jeopardy of losing their research funding and their careers. Who in their right mind will choose research as a career? Is it any wonder that so many of our best quantitative minds wind up on Wall Street, where their talents are not only wasted, but have turned out to destroy wealth.

It really seems to me that idealism is on the rise in today's students, and that many are yearning to serve their nation. Our generation needs to make it easier for them to have reasonable careers in research and other public service areas. Please contact me if there's something we can do together to help make this happen.
